

The Eleventh Man

By Ivan Doig

The Eleventh teammate of his college football team, Ben Reinking is plucked from pilot training in WWII to chronicle the adventures of his teammates. They are scattered around the globe in war's lonely and dangerous theaters. This novel is about loyalty, survival, sacrifice, and love.

406 pages, hardcover, $26.00

Sherlock Holmes

The Montana Chronicles

By John H. Watson, M.D.

Edited by John S. Fitzpatrick

Here are the long-lost records of four intriguing mysteries solved by the famous English detective when he traveled to Montana in the late 1800's. Holmes solves a murder at the famous Opera House, theft in a gold mine, threats to Copper King Marcus Daly's famous race horse, and the sudden odd behavior of a miner's wife.

239 pages, paperback, map, photos, $12.95

Hattie Big Sky

By Kirby Larson

16-year-old Hattie Brooks summons the courage to leave Iowa and move all by herself to Montana to prove up on her late uncle's homestead claim. The author writes from her own family history and includes a group discussion guide.

289 pages, paperback, $8.99

The Pass

By Thomas Savage

First published in 1944, Thomas Savage, an extraordinary chronicler of the American West, tells the compelling story of the founding of a family ranch in the high country along the Montana-Idaho border.

335 pages, paperback, $12.95

Under the Big Sky

A Biography of A.B. Guthrie Jr.

By Jackson J. Benson

Animated by the observations of friends, family, and fellow authors, this intimate account offers rare insight into the life and work of a remarkable writer and into the making of the literary West.

322 pages, hardcover, photos, $29.95

Wallace Stegner

His Life and Work

By Jackson J. Benson

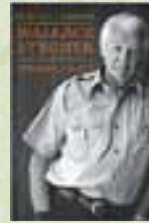

Drawing on nearly ten years of research and unlimited access to letters and personal files, Benson traces Stegner's story from his birth on his grandfather's Iowa farm to his prominence as an award-winning writer, critic, historian, and environmental activist.

472 pages, paperback, photos, $24.95

Wallace Stegner and the American West

By Philip L. Fradkin

In this biography of man, place, and century, renowned environmental historian Philip Fradkin reveals the Wallace Stegner behind the literary legacy—a generous teacher and conservationist whose early landscapes shaped his life and character.

369 pages, paperback, photos, $19.95

The Bottom of the Sky

By William C. Pack

A powerful and poignant rags-to-riches family saga that surges from rural squalor into the opulent power chambers of Wall Street and Silicon Valley.

466 pages, hardcover, $24.95

Montana 1948

By Larry Watson

In the summer of 1948, the charges of a young Sioux woman force David's father, the sheriff of their small town, to confront his older brother, a charming war hero and respected doctor. In this tale of love and courage, David learns what it means to weigh the terrible choice between family loyalty and justice.

169 pages, paperback, $14.00

The Surrounded

By D'Arcy McNickle

As Archilde Leon returns from the big city to his father's ranch on the Flathead Indian Reservation in Montana, his story unfolds that captures the intense and varied conflicts that characterized reservation life in 1936 when this remarkable novel was first published.

305 pages, paperback, $21.95

Last Tango in Melrose, Montana

The Writings of Dan Vichorek

Edited by John Kuglin

Dan Vichorek was a journalist of exceptional talent who wrote eloquently about Montana's farmers, ranchers, and cowboy culture, the frog that lived in the family's cistern, haircuts. . . . You'll find things in this anthology you never expected!

107 pages, paperback, photos, $12.95

The Painted Drum

By Louise Erdrich

While appraising an estate, Faye Travers is startled to discover a rare moose skin and cedar drum fashioned long ago by an Ojibwe artisan and begins an illuminating journey both backward and forward in time.

276 pages, paperback, $13.95

The Last Crossing

By Guy Vanderhaeghe

This master story teller delivers an exhilarating journey from Victorian England to the dusty whiskey trading posts of the nineteenth-century American and Canadian West as two Englishmen search for their brother, who has gone missing in the wilds of the American West.

391 pages, paperback, $14.00